stock just after the announcement, on the rest of the list was not affected, and even copper shares railled in the later dealings.

The market as a whole unquestionably showed greater vitality than in a long time past. It was obvious that the advance was based on something more substantial than covering of short contracts; in fact, there was very good evidence that leading bank interests bought generously in their various specialities to-day.

The close was animated and strong at nearly the best prices.

Express says: Stock

The Mail and Express says: Stock prices moved up in a conservative manner to-day, and the market made a better exhibition of strength than generally expected. In nearly all directions the feeling was more ordinistic than of late, and there was an increased disposition to pay greater heed to such factors as the steady improvement on the monetary situation continued large railroad enrifaces, the favorable harvest outlook and the enlargement of our export trade.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, April 18.—The stock market showed some uncertainty in the first quotations in view of the rather easy way in which it sold off on the previous night. There was nothing in the London quotations to give any lead, and commission houses did not seem to be very well supplied with orders. The tractions reflected the influence of the unsettled labor situation. The railroad stocks hardened uprather easily after the first few minutes.

MANHATTAN HELD WELL:
Manhattan held well in spite of the strike reports. People likely to know say that the places of the men could be filled at once if a strike was declared.

SUGAR WAS FIRMER:
American Sugar was firmer on the evidence of revived activity in the trade shown by the marking up of the price of refined.

BALTIMORE & OHIO:
There were some scattering buying orders in Baltimore and Ohio through the commission houses on the fine earnings published on Wednesday.

TRADING VERY ACTIVE:

Trading was not very active in the first hour, but the tone was generally hard and prices mostly advanced after the first few minutes, while the tractions railied strongly, Trading was very largely pro-

METROPOLITAN:
In view of the alleged revelations of Metropolitan it was very significant that Wormsor was the principal buyer of the stock early in the day. The room naturally took it that he was likely as anybody to know the real facts of the case.

The Baltimore control was credited with marking up the price of 'Frisco common. There was, of course, a very narrow market in view of the large pool holdings, but friends of the control claimed the stock was cheap at going prices on its earnings and prospects.

PENNSYLVANIA:

The heavy buying of Pennsylvania by change of position by a leading operator

COTTON MARKETS.

NIEW YORK, April 16.—The cotton market opened stendy at unchanged prices to a decline of 3 points and ruled generally easier during the entire session. Soon after the call July advanced 2g3 points, and after mid-day short covering brought about a slight advance. The market closed barely steady at within 1 point of the lowest and at decline of 4g7 points.

Speculation was quiet during most of the day and seemed to consist almost entirely of professional operations, partalling of an evening up character. TOBACCO MARKET.

Richmend, Va., April 16, 1903.

The condition of the tobacco market during the week raiding April 3d closed very firm, and we can report bigher prices of all grades in good order. The market stried off the first of the week very active and has kept up about top figures at provious quotations. There were some good tobaccos for sta-day's sales (Priday) and several lots soid for hundred—the highest price of the season for sun-cured tobacco.

The market has taken on renewed activity and strength, and indications point toward higher prices for good tobacco.

Dark stemming tobaccos have also advanced in prices and are selling above the usual quotations. We anticipate a market above the average for the coming week.

Total amount sold for the week at the four warehouses. 13,131 pounds. Quotations are as follows:
